

Advanced Cloud Networking

Solve common cloud challenges with Azure ExpressRoute and AWS Direct Connect high-speed networking.

Operating on the cloud delivers a wealth of benefits, but it's not without challenges. Maybe you've found the networking costs to be too high, or you're hesitant to move everything to the cloud due to security or compliance reasons. Or maybe you just need reliable private network performance for connections from your data center to the cloud.

Codero's Advanced Cloud Networking capabilities can help. We'll use Azure ExpressRoute or AWS Direct Connect to connect your resources to other clouds, your on-premise technology, and/or servers in our data center at faster speeds, more securely and at a lower cost than going straight from the cloud.

USE CASES

Saving Money on Cloud Bandwidth Charges

Codero can help you route your most costly traffic through less expensive paths, saving you thousands in bandwidth fees.

Meeting Security and Compliance Requirements

Keep core infrastructure on your servers or ours while connecting to cloud resources over secure, dedicated lines.

Reliable Performance

We will optimize your cloud-to-datacenter network speeds for reliably fast performance.

Connecting Azure to AWS

Codero can help design a private and dedicated networking path to connect multiple clouds with better security and performance.

Beyond Advanced Cloud Networking

Codero does much more than Advanced Cloud Networking — we're a full-service, platform-agnostic partner for pro-active, managed IT. Get the expert guidance and services you need to meet your goals today and in the future as your company grows and evolves.
